

' I love meeting and getting to know the generous and committed people who are using private wealth to improve the welfare of humanity and for the community good '

GRAVE

Manager, Membership Services

Philanthropy Australia

What I do: Philanthropy Australia is the national peak body for the philanthropic sector. My role is to build and maintain positive relationships with philanthropic funders and to develop and deliver membership activities and services.

What I love about my job: I love meeting and getting to know the generous and committed people who are using private wealth to improve the welfare of humanity and for the community good.